Pax-it™

Only humans can make good things happen through written words.
If good things are not noticed by other people, good things in the world tend to go away.

Parents, Families, and Other Caring Adults...

Please praise the young person who received this note for his or her effort in bettering the world. Talk about the note to others. The more you appreciate the effort that your young person makes, the more effort your young person will make for other important personal, family, and community goals.

Peers, Friends, Co-workers, and Neighbors...

The good that people do now will become your world. If you notice the good your friends, co-workers & others do, then there will be more good for you, too. Businesses and other places using PAX-it™ notes can randomly draw notes for rewards and recognition, and you might be picked as a friend to share the rewards and recognition.

Other Adults...

If you see or read a PAX-it™, speak to the recipient and praise them. You will make more good for yourself and the community.

When People Pax-it™, they make more good in the world happen.
