"Getting Started" Example

Let's say you are interested in finding out your laboratory results. Labs are available for the last five years. Any labs needed longer than five years ago will need to be retrieved from the Medical Records Department at the hospital (open Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.)

1. First, select the 'Health Records' button.

Note: Not all labs are present on the Portal due to the complexity of the results (ex. microbiology cultures). For any results not viewable, please follow up with your Primary Care Physician or Ordering Physician.

2. Select the 'Results' button.

Loading Results: Your computer may take a few minutes to load all result data available for the past five years.

After selecting the 'Results' button, you will see your lab results, with the most recent at the top. If you click on any lab test it will show you a historical view of older results from past visits.

Printing: to print information from any area of the Portal you must use the 'Print' button within the Portal.

Once you have finished looking at your results, perhaps you want to see Medications. To go back to a previous page, you MUST use the Patient Portal 'Back to' buttons, located on the right side for each respective page.

If you accidentally use the Internet forward/back buttons,  you may see the following warning. Simply click 'Stay on this Page' and continue navigation by using the Portal 'Back to' buttons.

The navigation error occurs because the Patient Portal has specific security measures that make sure every page you view generates a brand new address link to keep your privacy safe while viewing your information on the internet.

If you would like to quickly get back to the Home Page, you may use the  button at any time. This is located in the top right-hand corner of your Patient Portal screen.

Updating Demographics or Contact Information

If you select the 'Profile' button from the Home page, you will see all of your Demographic and Contact information on file, based on your last hospital visit. If there is incorrect information, you may NOTE: We do not allow the following to be changed over the Portal: Name, Home address, Date of Birth or Age. Please allow 1-2 business days for validation of the information and update on the Portal page.
